Poll Question

What are the biggest challenges you are seeing today in agile development?

- Lack of clearly defined user stories or business objectives
- Need more and quicker stakeholder participation
- Lack of communication – especially with teams in different departments and/or regions
- Information and business rules are too spread out to get the big picture
- Lack of re-use – need to move quickly so it's “faster” to just write it yourself
- No way to easily and quickly determine impact of changes

- Great!
- Meh – they are ok.

“WHY BLUEPRINT?”

QUESTIONS MANAGERS ASK THEMSELVES

- We are going to make a change – what will it impact?
- Who changed that requirement and why?
- Where are we on signoffs?
- What is our confidence level that we tested everything including our nonfunctionals?
- These test cases failed – if we pull those features what major functional impact will that have?
- What is the user experience like and does it meet the businesses expectations?
- These regulations are changing soon, who needs to know so we can get ahead of it?
